Special News Bulletin

After 12/31/17, computer classes and workshops offered at UAM will no longer be offered by Little Rock SeniorNet, because LRSN will no longer be associated with the national SeniorNet organization.

The volunteers who provided the classes, workshops, and other services will continue to provide the classes and workshops at UAMS beginning on 1/1/18. The name of the new nonprofit volunteer organization responsible for the classes and workshops will be Little Rock Digital Learning Center (LRDLC).

The Phone number will remain the same: (501) 603-1262

The email address for LRDLC is: info@littlerockdlc.org

The website address for LRDLC is littlerockdlc.org

The schedules for classes and workshops will continue to be sent to students via emails, newsletters and postcards.

Little Rock DLC would like to thank Jann Greenland, Greenland Creative, Inc. for designing our new logo.

Mission Statement

Little Rock Digital Learning Center

The Little Rock Digital Learning Center is a non-profit organization providing computer technology skills to adult students. We are located in the Reynolds Institute on Aging on the University of Arkansas Medical Sciences campus in Little Rock, Arkansas. Our volunteers have many years' of experience in teaching adults the ability to understand digital technology and to enable them to share their newly found knowledge and wisdom with others. Through our volunteer instructors and coaches we support their development and expand their computer literacy skills through classes and workshops on the latest technology environment offered.
